Overture Art & Literary Magazine

a marbling of creative prose and artistic ability
What is Overture?

- Overture Art and Literary Magazine strives to inspire imagination, foster literary and artistic talent, and promote creative growth by teaching middle school students how to develop their own creative writing or art styles through mediums not offered at their own schools.
- Quite simply put, we aim to help burgeoning artists and writers develop their abilities and to help them become better at their craft.
Why should you join?

▲ Overture gives you a place to receive constructive criticism from both your peers and the editors.
▲ Overture can help foster your creativity and learn more about writing and/or art, as well as give you opportunities to develop your skills.
▲ Your work will be published online and maybe even in print.
▲ You can meet more people with interests that are like yours.
▲ Edited works can be entered in competitions such as the Scholastic Art and Writing Awards, and we’ll help you with submissions.
Meetings

▲ We will generally meet twice a month on Mondays.
▲ Meetings will be from 3:20-4:15 PM; they will not be on minimum days.
▲ The first meeting in the month will be an activity meeting, where we will help get your creative juices flowing.
▲ The second meeting will be an editing meeting, where both your peers and the editors will look over your work and edit it.

The Magazine

- Magazines will be published on the Overture website bimonthly; the members will get to decide if they want a theme for the issue.
- They contain both art and writing samples from the students who join the magazine.
Applications

▲ All members must submit an application to be considered as such.
▲ New members can join monthly; we accept applications year-round (if you have a friend who wants to join, tell them to!)
▲ You don’t need to complete another application monthly if you’ve already been accepted, however.
